Dear President Caldwell:

On October 21, 2020, the United States Clan Management (hereinafter “Management”) noticed fully that you and those who worked with you on creating a new United States be removed from the community. Senior Management deliberated and has decided to issue blacklists, in concord with the HUSA Blacklists, for the principals of the BUSA movement. The remaining contents of this letter set out the reasons for and the scope of the Management’s decision.

We also recognize that the United States government set forth its own procedure for dealing with “rebellion and insurrection,” the federal terms of art for what you and your co-conspirators engaged in, and that some of your co-conspirators have gone through the motions of that procedure. Nonetheless, that is a procedure set forth to deal with violations of the role play itself, not violations that extend beyond into harm against the community’s very existence. Thus, while that procedure is fully applicable to you and your co-conspirators, it has no bearing on our decision today.

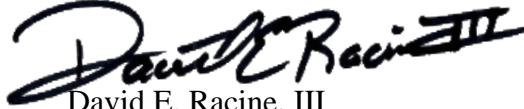

We have worked for years to foster a community that is welcoming and, when possible, forgiving. That is why so many have been given second and even third chances with the Management’s disciplinary process. We have generally approached community moderation through an informally tiered perspective. Ranking from least to most severe, we tend to observe three primary types of action liable for moderation: (1) conduct illegal to the community role play, (2) conduct harmful to the community’s existence or “self,” and (3) conduct illegal in real life. We reserve unappealable removals only for that third tier.

The actions of you and your co-conspirators fall squarely into the upper echelons of the second tier. Therefore, the Management has approved a removal order for yourself, Asceylos, RichoCaldwell, cashcursive, RobCaldwell, Technozo, and any further President, Developer, or member of Group Management. The order entails a permanent ban and disqualification of citizenship with no opportunity for appeal. Attempts to participate in the community or attempts to appeal or challenge the contents or spirit of this order will be considered a direct violation of the decision and show further discourse between yourselves and this community.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,
